BILBAO, June 14.—Insurgent
airplanes flying at a low altitude raked the center of Bilbao
with machine-gun fire today as rebel troops, successful in their four weeks' attempt to break
the city's "Iron Ring," pressed forward into the suburbs.

Basque troops continued to hold
Mount Uruste, but the invaders crossed the last bridges over the Nervion River and advanced a mile and a half in a single day.

Insurgent leaders claimed a large quantity of war material and prisoners were seized, the latter including Major Vallejo, chief of staff of the officers commanding the "Iron Ring."

Following occupation of Santa

Fairgrounds in some localities are being converted into trailer camps
for tourists who make stop-overs in the communities.

State highway patrolmen were stationed at many of the important state highway intersections in this part of Pennsylvania yesterday, motorists report. Traffic safety was much benefited as a result.

The Croton district is the center
of activity this morning as two different work projects were started.
WPA workers are fixing the gutters
at the intersection of Hays and Dewey avenue, while employees
of the City of New Castle Water Company are repaving the street on Croton avenue, where a new water line
was laid several weeks ago.

Need for a traffic officer at the corner of the East North street
and Croton avenue bridge is sadly needed on Saturday evening, Pa
New noticed that traffic was tied up in three different directions
around 9:30 o'clock Saturday eve-

downstream traffic by turning off
Washington street and coming up
across the bridge do not help mat-

Harry Trover, of North Shenango street, brought a peculiar looking beetle to the office of The News
this morning, which he found at the foot of an oak tree while doing
some landscaping about the city recently. The beetle is black with grayish spots on the wings, and just back of the head there are two deep
black spots outlined with gray
which have the appearance of huge eyes. So far no person has been able to classify the insect for Mr.
Trover.

he outplayed the Rose avenue
school champ, Walter Kerber, in the Scores of parents, friends and

Fifteen Cars Run Into Plant At Warren, Ohio

Report Track Is Torn Up Following Penetrating Of Picket Line

(International News Service)

WARREN, O., June 14.—Aroused steel strikers augmented their picket lines today, tearing up tracks leading into Republic's plant here after the Erie railroad ran a train of 15
cars through the strikers' picket line,
catching them unaware.

Massing 75 policemen along the right of way, the railroad shunted
its cars into the Republic Steel plant at a time when the picket lines had dwindled to almost nothing. Before the strikers could rally
strength to oppose the movement,
the cars were safe inside the plant
walls and the railroad police had left the scene.

The pickets immediately set to work ripping up rails. Newspapermen attempting to photograph the movement of four cars over the

Ohio railroad to sidetrack cars containing lumber inside the plant of Republic's mill. The pickets lifted a barrier of railroad ties across the track while police looked on to permit passage of the cars.

Governor Earle Visits

(International News Service)

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., June 14.—
An army of 75 brawny state police men dispatched by Gov.
George H. Earle today stood guard at the eight-mile-long strike-bound plant of the Bethlehem Steel corporation against a renewal of violence in which
five men were hurt Sunday.

Although caustically criticizing Bethlehem Steel officials for their adamant attitude against the CIO,
the governor who flew here in an autogyro for a personal inspection of the strike scene indicated he will try to arrange peace conferences.

Strike Spreads To Mines.
On orders of John L. Lewis, CIO generalissimo, the strike spread from the Bethlehem plants here, which employ 12,000 or more men, to the company's "captive" mines which supply the fuel for its furnaces. Gov.

Earle said the feeling among persons with whom he spoke was that the walkout eventually will engulf
the other Bethlehem plants employing more than 60,000 men.

Although David Watkins, CIO
strike leader, claimed the strike was

Young Man Is First Drowning Victim Of Year

Sinks In Waters Of Neshan-
nock Creek Near Neshan-
nock Falls Sunday Afternoon

FRIENDS UNABLE TO REVIVE HIM

Edward Czemarda, aged 22 years, 704 Etna street was the first drowning victim of the current swimming
season, being stricken while in bathing near Neshannock Falls on Sunday afternoon about 4:40. Although his body was recovered within five minutes after he had disappeared,
efforts to revive him were unsuccessful.

Czemarda had gone to the spot,
along Neshannock creek, about a mile north of Neshannock Falls,
with a group of friends for a picnic.
They arrived there about 4 o'clock,
and soon afterwards, decided to go
swimming, according to the story
told Coroner Orville Potter. Czemarda dove into the water, swam out to the middle of the stream, and disappeared.

When he did not reappear soon
afterwards, others in the group
started a search for his body, and it was recovered by his brother Martin,
who with another brother Frank,
was a member of the party. The spot where he went down was about seven feet deep, it was stated.

Mrs. John Buday, of 612 West
Washington street, who has had experience in first aid work, began
giving him artificial resuscitation,
while others in the party went for medical aid. One in the group came to New Castle to secure the assistance of the police with the city's pulmotor, Officers Young, McMullen, Nelson and Hanna responding.
In the meantime a doctor was summoned from New Wilmington.

No New Clues In Kidnaping

New York Case Baffling—
G-Men Take Charge
Of Case

RANSOM NOTE IS SINGLE CLUE

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, June 14.—With federal G-men in complete charge,
authorities today eagerly awaited
some response to the public appeal
made yesterday by William H. Parsons, whose wife has been missing
five days.

Only clue to her fate remained in the ransom note for $25,000 found in her automobile Wednesday night.
The society matron was last seen
by a member of her household at 11:15 a. m. Wednesday when, Mrs.
Anna Kupryanova declared, she left
with an elderly man and a woman
interested in some property of Mrs.
Parsons' at Huntington.

Wave Of Activity
Despite the apparent absence of clues, a sudden wave of mysterious activity indicated G-men were laying a trap for the supposed kidnapers. Three times, federal agents sped from Stony Brook to a beautiful home in nearby Huntington.

Each time they carried with them a black box resembling a suitcase.

The box was believed to contain telephone-tapping equipment, but
the G-men kept their plans a jealously guarded secret.

Neither the statement of the Russian-born intimate of the family
nor that of others who reported seeing Mrs. Parsons later could be corroborated. State police, in the belief Mrs. Parsons had been slain, planned to make a thorough search of the vicinity of the Parsons home
at Stony Brook, L. I., this afternoon.
Federal agents dissuaded them from making such a search several days ago.

Jameson Memorial hospital with an injured hip and leg the result of having been struck by a hit and

According to police, Lieutenant

drove to Moravia street where Hanna, a cruiser car operator had gone to direct traffic at Moravia
and Furnace street.

Kennedy drove the car north to a point in front of 905 Moravia street and stopped. Hanna stepped into the carway and stood with one foot on the left running board
of the car and was talking to Lieutenant Kennedy and Detective Young.

A Ford V-8 in which there were two colored men came south and struck Hanna, knocking him down.
The auto failed to stop and Patrolman Jack Thompson who was in the street fired several shots after
the fleeing automobile.

While Kennedy and Young took Hanna to the hospital Thompson commandeered an auto and gave chase,
but the hit and run auto got away.

Chief of Police Ralph A. Criswell
today was trying to get a lead on who might have driven the car.

successful, Sydney D. Evans, industrial relations director for Bethlehem, maintained all departments were working.

The strike was called by the CIO in support of a walkout by two railroad brotherhoods on the Conemaugh & Blacklick railroad, a Bethlehem subsidiary, following refusal of the company to grant them a written contract. Predicting the strike will spread to the plant at Bethlehem, Pa., C. W. Jones, vice-president of the trainmen's brotherhood, charged Bethlehem was operating the railroad with inexperienced men.

Five Hurt In Clash.
A policeman, a picket and three non-striking employees were hurt in a brief clash at the Franklin plant here which occurred soon after Governor Earle arrived. At its height, about two score pickets and about as many non-strikers were engaged in the battle which was quickly ended by CIO organizers and company and municipal police. None of the injured men required hospitalization. The epithet "scab" hurled at one of the men still working as the shifts changed at the mill precipitated the melee.

"The attitude of the company in not giving contracts to their men is unreasonable," the governor said. He added he had requested Evans and C. R. Ellicott, general manager of the plant, to convey his sentiments to Charles M. Schwab and Eugene M. Grace, the men who head Bethlehem Steel, the nation's largest independent company and its second largest steel producer.

Will Seek Conference.
The governor indicated he will try to arrange further conferences with company and union officials. The state troopers had been previously concentrated at the Ebensburg barracks nearby and at the command of Governor Earle moved into Johnstown.

It was expected the "captive" miners will join CIO strikers for picket duty. Union leaders of the five mines in this section were meeting to take a strike vote when Lewis called them and the Youngstown Sheet & Tube company captive miners out on strike in Washington.

The Conemaugh & Blacklick connects the vast Bethlehem plant here with the Pennsylvania and Baltimore & Ohio railroads. It employs about 500 men and brings all raw materials such as ore, limestone and coal into the huge Bethlehem plants bounding the Conemaugh river. The railroad strikers demand signed contracts.

Although brotherhood leaders declared their men had responded 100 per cent to the strike call, locomotives could be seen operating as formerly along the line. The great stacks at the plant were belching smoke and from the outside activity seemed normal.

Sunday's clash was the first violence in the strike. Previously non-strikers were allowed to enter the mill gates amid the taunts and jeers of pickets. The picket lines were sparse, usually consisting of a score or more workers gathered at the gates in clusters.

Jones said he will file charges against Bethlehem Steel with the Interstate Commerce Commission in Washington, complaining the ICC safety codes were not being observed. He charged "Bethlehem will have no one to blame but itself" if a serious accident occurs.

Lessening of the smoke from the stacks and dwindling of the red glare from the furnaces gave rise to unconfirmed reports that Bethlehem had been forced to close down its big Franklin mill at the Cambria plant. Pickets were jubilant, shouting, "They're banking the furnaces, but there was no immediate confirmation from company officials.

crossed the last bridges and are now actually in the suburbs of Bilbao, whose population has been swollen by refugees to nearly 400,000.

Nearby Santander is being hastily fortified to stand — the last stronghold of the Basque Loyalists.

Leading officers of the Basque army were among 1500 men captured along with a whole munitions train yesterday, the Tenerife radio reported.

Overlooking the Bilbao suburb of Begona, the insurgents captured the hill of Santa Marina and the neighboring hamlet of Munagorb.

Not Yet Lost
Throughout their speedy dash along a five-mile salient on a 30-mile front, the insurgents rained shells on the beleaguered city and staged several aerial demonstrations over Bilbao as a warning.

Government leaders have insisted that the city is not yet lost. Replying to rebel statements that he and other officials had fled to Santander, Basque president Jose de Aguirre said "our only thought today is to continue resistance."

An army of more than 30,000 insurgents is estimated to be engaged in the fighting in the immediate vicinity of Bilbao. During one of Sunday's aerial visits, 24 tri-motored airplanes of German manufacture accompanied by a large number of fighting planes flew slowly over the city.

Both planes and artillery refrained from bombing the center of the city, but suburbs along the Nervion River, where many foreign consuls have their homes, were shattered by shells.

Demands Surrender
London, June 14.—President Jose Antonio de Aguirre of the Basque republic sent an envoy to Rebel Generalissimo Francisco Franco last night to discuss terms of surrender, the diplomatic correspondent of the London Evening Standard declared today.

Franco insisted upon unconditional surrender which de Aguirre regarded as unacceptable, the correspondent stated.

men Sunday at the State Park, three miles north of the city. There was no disorder.

To Oppose Picketing
Grimly determined that there will be no picketing of the plant, a force of 200 men stood guard at the road leading to the mill ready to repel any attack by union men. They were armed with sub-machine guns, rifles and bilbies. They had stretched two steel cables across the roadway, and their attitude was: "They shall not pass."

Automatic ditch-digging machines were used to excavate a trench across the highway. Flood lights were set up to play across the area at night.

H. H. Holloway, vice president and general manager of the Newton Steel plant, scene of last Thursday's rioting during which at least 12 persons were injured, told International News Service that beginning today the mill would operate at 90 per cent capacity.

"I'll continue to operate, strike or no strike," he declared. "Our men want to work, and to be left alone."

Governor Visits City
Governor Frank Murphy made a trip to Monroe to survey the situation at close range. Although he was in the city at the time he did not attend the union men's mass meeting.

At the big protest meeting, Van Bittner, of Chicago, director of the Steel Workers Organizing committee, told the assemblage the union picket line would be re-established within two days. He did not reveal, however, what steps would be taken to accomplish this.

The resolution adopted by the meeting asked Governor Murphy to provide protection for the return of the union pickets who were routed by the vigilantes last Thursday.

"We call upon the governor," the resolution stated, "to provide the proper safeguards to prevent the illegality and violence of the company agents in public office and out."

The resolution demanded the removal of Monroe's mayor, Daniel A. Knaggs, and denounced Republic Steel company officials and city officials for breaking up the picket line last Thursday.

The altar was beautifully empaneled with pink and white peonies, greenery and other foliage of the season, which was set off by the reflection of tall white Cathedral candles, in branching candelabra. Rev. Philip C. Pearson, rector, officiated with the single ring service, in the presence of several hundred guests, at 9:45 o'clock.

Following a congratulatory period at the church, a wedding breakfast and reception took place at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Rankin, aided by the Misses Ruth and Dorothy Metzler. Miss Frances Metzler poured.

Pink and white appointments were developed at the bridal table, and the traditional tiered wedding cake surmounted with a miniature bride and groom, formed the attractive centerpiece. A shower of roses and orange blossoms knotted to pink streamers, dropped from the chandelier overhead, radiating from the centerpiece, were roses which led out to the guests' places. Covers were marked for thirty-two.

Mr. Gerlach and his bride left later in the day on a wedding trip. For traveling, she selected a green and sand brown linen suit, with white accessories. Upon their return they will be "at home" to their many friends in their newly furnished apartment at 518 West Cherry street, this city.

LOCAL YOUNG FOLKS MOTOR TO LAKE ERIE

Saturday, members of the Leadership Training class of the First Baptist church, with their escorts, drove to Billow Beach, on Lake Erie, where they were entertained at the summer cottage of their teacher, Mrs. S. J. Callahan.

The party this year was given especially for two girls in the class who will be married this summer.

Thelma Heath, who will wed Donald Wyman, on June 17, and Alberta Davis, whose marriage to Lawrence Watson, will take place in July. Also, the girls surprised their hostess, Virginia Callahan, with a handkerchief shower in honor of her graduation this week from Westminster college.

This excursion was the fifth of the kind for the class, and the 18 young people in the group all had a wonderful time.

C. D. of A. Installation
This evening at eight o'clock, in K. of C. hall, at the regular meeting of C. D. of A., Court Theresa Irene, No. 231, officers will be installed. Mrs. Della K. Crawford of Midland will be the installing officer.

Parley Vows Club
Members of the Parley Vows club will be entertained in the home of Mrs. Lou Davies, Martin street, Wednesday evening.

STEEL GRATING FOR PAVING BRIDGES

EMPLOYMENT of steel grating instead of paving for bridge roadways is not exactly new—twenty-one spans in this country are so constructed—but its use for the first time in New York on the new Marine Parkway bridge between Brooklyn and Rockaway, is noteworthy enough to attract more attention to this type of roadway material. How New York motorists take to riding over metal honeycombs instead of asphalt or granite blocks will be watched with interest from here.

The grating consists of longitudinal bars held parallel to each other at distances of two and a quarter inches by diagonal struts. It is supposed to lessen the total cost of the bridge on which it is used because it weighs much less than ordinary paving
and thus reduces the amount of steel required in bridge foundations.

Its advocates say it will not become as hot under the sun's rays as usual forms of paving because of the comparatively small volume of steel used and the constant passage of air through the grill that it will not entail additional wear on tires that it will reduce the chance of skidding; that snow will not accumulate upon it, but will drop to the water below.

The lattice work roadway seems to have many advantages
—but if a motorist should happen to drop any loose change out of his pockets while crossing this bridge it would be just too bad!

JUNE'S YOUNG ARMY

Following an ancient and consistently maintained tradition, sages and seers of high and low degree are informing graduates of the colleges and universities during these days of June that the world lies before them. It might be added for the encouragement of the young people that the world, a difficult place at best, holds for the graduates a brighter prospect now than it has at any time since those dismal days back in 1929 when the old edifices began to crack at the base and topple over into ruins and dust.

There are opportunities for graduates today. In fact, there is actually a demand among industries and other business establishments
throughout the country for young people whose scholastic achievements hold the promise of success. Many have succeeded in obtaining the assurance of employment months before leaving college.

Of course, this improved situation does not mean that all is clear sailing and that the most difficult barriers have been overcome. The struggle that is a part of life is just beginning and it will be won only by those who bring to it more than ordinary qualities, among them a spirit of grim determination. The future is hard, but not as hopeless as the past.

SUN NEVER SETS ON STARS AND STRIPES

There is no hour of the whole twenty-four when the sun may not shine on Old Glory, proud symbol of our country since June 14, 1777.
Like the British Empire, which takes pride in the fact that the sun never sets on its flag, America may also proudly claim that in some part of the globe the Stars and Stripes are always floating in the breeze.
Americans are observing today as Flag day.

As American commerce and influence reach to all parts of the world, Old Glory is known in every clime and place, even though we have fewer far-flung possessions than some of the older nations. For example, it is the custom of the U. S. Marines to raise our flag every morning at 8 o'clock. It remains flying until sunset.

Three hours after the marines at New York, Boston, Norfolk, and other east coast naval stations have raised the flag, their comrades at San Diego and other posts along the Pacific seaboard present arms to the colors as they are hoisted briskly to the top of the flagstaff, the time interval varying only when daylight saving is in vogue.

About two and a half hours later the ceremony is repeated in the Hawaiian Islands. More than five hours will have rolled around before the flag is raised by the sea soldiers in the far-off Philippines, and at virtually the same hour the marines hoist the flag over the American embassy at Peking, China, and their post at Shanghai.

Several hours later the western march of daylight catches the fluttering folds of the Stars and Stripes flying over American consulates and embassies in the Near East and in Europe, or over our naval vessels in European waters.

Thus the Stars and Stripes makes its appearance in the early morning hours and remains flying until the sun disappears over the horizon—a symbol of justice to those who seek protection under its folds.

Custom decrees that the flag be lowered at nightfall. Over only three buildings in America does the national flag fly officially night and day continuously—over the east and west fronts of the national capitol, the house of representatives and senate office buildings. But the flags are flown over the senate and house only when those official bodies are in session and during a recess. At all other times they are lowered.

The old-fashioned sweetheart called her boy-friend "Sugar," too,
but she didn't mean "Sugar-Daddy."

Modesty is a good investment. The finer house you build, the harder it is to get your money out of it.

It was only a few weeks ago that five powers gave their solemn word that intervention will cease in Spain. Subsequent events have demonstrated just what the solemn word of five powers amounts to.

PICKING CHILD'S TUTOR

A great many children who failed
to be promoted or failed in one or more subjects, will be provided with a tutor during the summer. In choosing a tutor, select one who has high standards, patience, sympathy and understanding, quiet voice and manner, one who knows how a child learns and what his learning difficulties are. This tutor might be more efficient if she had the assistance of a psychologist, say, of your nearest college or university.

Unfortunately, the average tutor
misses the main point in his or her procedure. She or he is inclined to set the child at learning tasks on which he has already failed. Suppose the fifth grade child failed to pass in reading. Then he usually is exercised at reading more at fifth grade level. But the reason he failed,
as a rule, is because the reading material for his grade level had been too hard for him.

Find Success Level.
If he is to make progress, he must read with ease and efficiency what is interesting to him; hence, the wise
tutor will try him out on reading
matter of various degrees of difficulty until a level is found at which he can succeed—and she will not need a standard test in order to do this. He must succeed in order to be interested; so must you and I. He must enjoy the glow of achievement in order to strive at his best,
just as you and I must.

Say he can read at about only third grade difficulty. Then, if he is given a third grade reader, his pride will be wounded and his feeling of inferiority magnified. Obviously, a better way is to find books
with third grade vocabulary but with fifth grade, or higher, content. Such books well-illustrated, may be found in any good public library. Among them will be Indian stories, achievements of science and industry, and books of things to make or to do or tricks to perform. The child of the fifth and sixth grade level is tremendously interested in magic, jokes
within his range, and conundrums.

There are several good children's magazines which include such materials. An advantage of the children's magazine is that it suggests
reading for pleasure and gets away from bookish suggestions. It has materials of wide range of interest and difficulty. From it the child can choose what he likes to read without feeling he is reading something far beneath his age level. Besides, it is profusely illustrated.

Also in arithmetic or spelling, it is very essential that rock-bottom
be found first, and that the child
move forward gradually from there.
With emphasis on accuracy, calm
and serenity—no suggestion of haste,
but encouragement to work slowly
and carefully at numbers and verbal problems; and to master a few sums
and spell a few words rather than mess over many.

On the market are many excellent self-teaching booklets, especially in arithmetic and reading. They may be found at any good book or school
supply store. Your school superintendent, principal or teacher may be able to name some publishers of such materials. Otherwise, write me
in care of this paper.

The most rows caused in congress and in state legislatures are

were the principal thing to legis-

HOW'S THIS ONE?
In the early part of my married life my wife and I (that refers to L. W. Wright of Michigan) decided to try our luck in the West, so we loaded our 40-pound feather bed, a few chickens, a grindstone, plow
and a few other necessary things
into a covered wagon and with an old team started for Kansas.

On our arrival there we became acquainted with a Scotchman who owned 40 acres of land. There was a dugout for a house, one apple tree and an old shack of a barn on the property. He said he would trade it for most anything. I proposed giving him our feather bed
which he agreed to accept, but my wife objected to giving up the tick
he then said he would be satisfied with the feathers alone. I dumped the 40 pounds of goose feathers on the ground and he gathered them
up loose in his arms and left us in possession of the 40 acres. I later learned he carried those feathers
eight miles and swam two rivers
without so much as losing a feather.

We moved right into our new house and after a few days when the weather had cleared up I decided to plow a garden spot. I was amazed as the plow turned over
the soil to see so many earthworms.
They were so thick you could stack them up with a five-tined fork. My garden looked exactly like a big bowl of noodles. Just as I was finishing my wife called and said I'd better
come in as there was a windstorm coming up. I ran as fast as I could and just reached the dugout in time
before the blow began.

About two hours later the storm passed and as I went outside the first thing that attracted my attention was the featherless condition of my chickens. And not only was most of their plumage gone, but their bills were missing except that part closest to the eyes. I saw the

Dear Miss Markel—May a bride wear a white wedding dress and veil
regardless of the time of day she is to be married—morning, afternoon
or evening?

Answer—Yes. But the bride who marries in the morning should be less elaborately dressed than the afternoon or evening bride.

The morning bride's dress would best be orandy or mouseline de soie—for Summer—crepe or char-
meuse plainly made.

Her veil should be of tulle rather than lace. She may, of course, carry a bouquet but need wear no gloves.
At an afternoon or evening wedding, any of the more formal materials are entirely correct.

Dear Miss Markel—At my wedding I am going to have two bridesmaids, a matron of honor and two ushers. Must the bridesmaids necessarily be single girls?

Answer—They may be either sin-

why you should eliminate your two best friends from this honor just because they happen to be married.

When Passions Flare Up.
Letter Of Pliny Is Cure.
Tells Of Christian Tortures.By LESLIE EICHEL,
Central Press Columnist

IN THESE TIMES, when intolerance and passion again flare up,
it is good to turn to a letter that is among the classics—the letter of Pliny the Younger, then governor of Bithynia. It was written to Emperor Trajan concerning a new influence "contaminating" the Roman gods and "injuring" the Roman state—Christianity.

This letter, written about 110 A.
D., or approximately 40 years after the death of St. Paul. Read now this epistle from one of the broadest-minded of Roman governors to the head of the empire.

"It is my invariable rule, Sir, to refer to you in all matters where I feel doubtful for who is more capable of removing my scruples,
or informing my ignorance? Having never been present at any trials concerning those who pre-fess Christianity, I am unacquainted not only with the nature of their crimes, or the measure of their punishment, but how far it is proper to enter into an examination concerning them. Whether, therefore, any difference is usually made
with respect to ages, or no distinction is to be observed between the young and the adult, whether repentance entitles them to a pardon;
or if a man has been once a Christian, it avails nothing to desist from his error; whether the very profession of Christianity, unattended with any criminal act, or only the crimes themselves interest in the profession are punishable; on all these points I am in great doubt."

"After receiving this account, I judged it so much the more neces-

a form of prayer to Christ, as to a

a trust when they should be called

it was their custom to separate, and then reassemble, to eat in common
a harmless meal.

"From this custom, however, they desisted after the publication of my

The World
AND THE Mud Puddles

IT'S A GREAT LIFE

According to the latest political advice from Washington, business
can't make money fast enough for present taxes to balance the budget, and heavy tax increases are now admitted to be necessary or a drastic cut in the expenditures of the Bureaucrats. This will not be news to those who have not been kidding themselves.

The labor agitators are after Henry Ford. They act a whole lot as if they were tackling a porcupine.
Ford has always led the world in short hours and high wages. He has public good will. It is freely admitted that he is apt to be a forthright
and predictable thing. As a forthright American citizen, he will probably never take orders from either political or labor dictators. He has ample warrant for undertaking to teach ingratitude a lasting lesson.

The motion picture censorship
board of Kansas City showed the country what suppression of free speech really means, when it cut
the remarks of United States Senator Wheeler opposing packing the Supreme Court out of "March of Time" newscast. The fact that the order was later rescinded, due to public indignation, does not excuse
or mitigate it. To give any public official, big or little, dictatorial powers inevitably leads the United States along the road followed by Germany, Italy and Russia—countries whose one-man governments
exert iron-handed control over screen, press and radio. There is no room for censorship in a Republic.

Just Folks

By EDGAR A. GUEST

FLAG DAY

Just a moment let us stay,
Ere we take the road today
And once more devotion pay
To the Flag!

Let us whisper just a prayer
For Old Glory waving there;
Hands on hearts and heads kept
bare,
To the Flag!

Let us pause and put aside
All thoughts that now divide
As we turn with love and pride
To the Flag!

God, I ask in all we do,
All we strive for and pursue,
Keep us faithful; keep us true
To the Flag!

FLAG DAY, MONDAY, JUNE 14

Notable Nativities—Frederick Ely,
Williamson, b. 1876 in Newark, O., who rose in 27 years from clerk to be president of New York Central
R. R., one of the three largest in U. S. . . John McCormack, b. 1884, world famous Irish-American singer.

Today's Yesterdays—June 14, 1777
—In the records of congress for this date, inconspicuously sandwiched between the commission of a naval officer and an order relating to six small sloops in the Delaware river, is this:

"Resolved, that the Flag of the United States shall be 13 stripes, alternate red and white; that the union be 13 stars, white in a blue field, representing a new constellation."

Hence, June 14 is observed as Flag Day.

Contrary to romantic tradition,
Mrs. Elizabeth "Betsy" Griscom,
Ross of Philadelphia, had nothing to do with designing the national symbol. But a Philadelphia widow, Mrs. Rebecca Young, did make the first flag—red and white stripes
with crosses of Sts. Andrew and George in the blue field—of George Washington's army, and her daughter, Mary, happened to see the first
"Star Spangled Banner"—the actual flag that flew over Ft. Mifflin,
Baltimore, and inspired Francis S.
Key to write the national anthem.

June 14, 1859—An army of 150,000
French and Piedmontese, defeated
170,000 Austrians at Solferino, Italy,
and 50,000 wounded were left to suffer upon the battlefield. A Swiss spectator, Jean Henri Dunant, was so agonized by their cries that he quickly rounded up peasant women
from the neighborhood to tend them. Thus was begun the first neutral organization of mercy, the Red Cross.

LOS ANGELES—Mrs. Charlotte

consider me a suspect I am willing verify or disprove rumors that have been cluttering up this case from the start."

NEW YORK—Lieut. Col. Brehon

Works Progress Administrator, cites
his reason for refusing to reassign
WPA workers to a children's palat-

Italy, and the Spanish rebels: "In my opinion the rehearsing of children in the recitation of criticisms of friendly foreign nations is not an activity in support of which the WPA should use public funds allocated to it for work relief."

McIntyre Learns Whose Who In Cinema World By Listening To Chatter Of Girls

BREAD AND BUTTER NOW TOO PLEBIAN

By O. O. MCINTYRE

NEW YORK, June 14—Diary: Bet times to the docks to breakfast aboard ship with Purser Villier of the Normandie. And then poking about the water front and through the tumbling tenements of West 47th street. So home and found a sickening letter from an anonymous writer in Seymour, Ind., trying to justify his poisoning of dogs.

Hamish McLaurin here on a flying trip from California swooped, he having decided to shutter their Nysack home and reside permanently on the coast, as O. O. McIntyre have so many lately. Then out and by the Ambassador to see Emily Ringling a moment and sat awhile with Dean Cornwell.

Tonight we had our first dinner served by the bonnie new Scottish maid, with a Will Pyle accent. And so in the car, picking up the Henry Sells, and driving across Long Island and toward the sea, the Ambassador to see Emily Ringling a moment and sat awhile with Dean Cornwell.

Now and then I get the reactions of modern youth to the current what-to by spending an evening with an Old Lyme, Ct. friend who has two lively daughters, 18 and 19. From the girls I keep up in current heart throbs in the movies. I began to slough off in my cinema devoirs about the time Adolphe Menjou reigned as the most debonair of the so-and-sos. The next thing I knew Menjou was playing elderly parts, with all his spruceness gone. I trailed Clark Gable awhile watching him pitter-patter the yearning hearts. And just about the time he became the accepted Great Lover, along came Robert Taylor and chivvied up the deepest sighs of all. Last night I learned that Taylor is likely to be shunted to the background for still another newcomer. I have never seen, named Wayne Morris. It is very confusing.

Memory: That ticklish feeling in walking barefoot in a crib of shell corn. Then, too, lying flat and burying yourself with only face exposed and taking a long cool nap.

Hoity toity note: Several fashionable hostesses no longer serve bread and butter at their dinners. They regard it as boorish-wah.

It is elegant fun to catch a dog in one of its rare serious moods and try to make it understand. It will cock its head, stiffen ears and often tremble as though striving to get the drift. I've just been conversing with my pooch—telling him what a pal he has been and that I'll never let him down. He knows it is all highly complimentary, but the Lincoln-Garfield summer reunion to be held July 11. A meeting of committees will be held in the office of Sheriff Edward D. Reichard on Thursday night, June 17, to discuss plans and to outline the program of the day. At the meeting the place of the reunion will be selected.

Rapid transportation is a blessing. All of us will enjoy foreign travel when we can get home by bed-time.

THIS STATE OF PENNSYLVANIA

BOONE BORN IN STATE

Do you know that Daniel Boone was born in Berks County? Daniel Boone was born on October 22, 1734, in a home in Exeter Township, Berks County. This house which also was his home for 16 years, is still standing. It is located off Route 422 (Benjamin Franklin Highway) southeast of Reading, near Eidsboro. It was heretofore developed his character, health, courage and skill that made him the rugged pioneer in later days. Unfortunately neither Berks county nor Pennsylvania have taken advantage of publicizing this historic shrine until just recently. In the meantime, the State of Kentucky has literally adopted Colonel Daniel Boone, sending out thousands of pieces of literature advertising the Blue Grass State with Daniel as a publicity slogan.

In Exeter Township also may be seen the home of Daniel Boone's grandfather, who settled there in 1720. Daniel, as a child, listened to the tales of his grandfather by a great stone fireplace that still remains as a crumbling ruin.

The Exeter Friends Meeting House where the Boone families worshipped, was established in 1725. It is located east of Reading, near Stonersville. Here President Abraham Lincoln's ancestors attended church services. The cemetery contains many graves on top of the first level of burials.

WASHINGTON AT A GLANCE

Economist Wins Recognition Now

Secretary Of State Cordell Hull Not Rated Highly At Start Of Term

PROVES ABILITY THROUGH POLICY

Central Press Washington Bureau 602 Times-Herald Bldg By CHARLES P. STEWART Central Press Columnist WASHINGTON, June 14.—Secretary of State Cordell Hull, while a public man of all around first-class ability, is, more than any other one thing, an economist.

An economist may seem like a queer kind of a specialist to head the state department, which concerns itself principally with diplomatic problems. When he was appointed, I thought he should have had the treasury portfolio. Yet he has made a wonderful success as cabinet premier. He had some trouble at the outset. One or two "brain trusters" who didn't understand his philosophy but who seemed to be, then, in closer touch with the White House than apparently he was, evidently worked at cross purposes with him.

But Hull lived this dissent down. The dissenters are out of office. And Hull's record generally is accepted, by New Dealers as well as by their opponents, as the most brilliant of any cabinet member's or of any state secretary's in many a generation of administrations.

NO INCONSISTENCY Secretary Hull does not see any inconsistency in a mixture of diplomacy with economics. I talked with him recently. "Our chats, when I was in the house of representatives and the senate," he said, "used to relate chiefly to economics."

"As secretary of state I have found that international issues practically all are involved with economics. In short, economics are at the bottom of international relationships."

So the Tennessean is in the correct berth in the last analysis.

PROSPERITY

The secretary's thesis is that there cannot be such a thing as national prosperity without world prosperity. Some authorities think that there can be.

This country, for example, is fairly well self-sufficient. To be sure, it would be better for us to trade with other countries if possible, but if we cannot do it on reasonable terms, can't we "go it alone" conceivably?

I once put this question to Senator M. M. Logan of Kentucky, a low tariff, if not a free-trading, Democrat. The Kentuckian said: "Maybe."

SELF-SUFFICIENT?

"Ideally," Senator Logan continued, "there should be an international exchange of products—our best for whatever they may be able to produce better than we can."

"But if the others are unreasonable, it is possible that their various attitudes will upset our internal system, and we'd do better to wall ourselves in, and be, internally, as prosperous as possible."

I submitted this proposition to Senator Hull (then a senator). "Can't we be fairly comfortable by ourselves alone?" I asked him.

"I'd say," answered the Tennessee senator (now state secretary), "that we might be mighty UN-comfortable."

IMPORTS WE NEED

Well, there ARE certain commodities that we DO have to import.

Bananas, tea and coffee. We could live without them. Probably we could do with some substitute for rubber.

Yet we need imported manganese for our steel industry.

And (gosh!) we need sugar. We are not so independent as we think we are.

Sugar is a military necessity; there are other commodities also. Secretary Hull is not so far off in suggesting that an isolationistic attitude may have its drawbacks even from Uncle Sam's policy.

Scout Minstrel Show To Feature Reunion Dinner

Grove City Troupe Will Furnish Entertainment On Opening Evening Of Reunion

Announcement was made today by the entertainment committee of the Valley of New Castle Consistory that the entertainment at the dinner party on the evening of June 21, the opening day of the Spring Reunion of the Consistory, will be furnished by the Grove City Boy Scout Minstrel troupe.

The troupe is under the direction of "Bill" Amos, former W. and J. football star, who has been head coach at Grove City College for the past five years.

The show was written and is directed by Amos and has made a tremendous hit in previous performances.

There will be no charge for the performance but attendance is limited to Grand Elect Masons.

"Wooden Indians" Found Elsewhere

Figures Formerly Used In Advertising Tobacco Stores Are Becoming Scarce

Although New Castle has no "Wooden Indians" the kind which were formerly used to advertise tobacco stores, other places still have them in use, according to reports received by The News.

Recently a search was made here for one of these antique figures, and none could be found, as was related several days ago.

One woman stated that a DuBois tobaccoist uses one to advertise his business and it can be found standing in front of his store on the main street. Another party reported seeing one in Saginaw, Mich. while there is also one in Crawford county, according to reports.

For the most part, they are scarce however, and can be found in some districts only in museums. They command a high price, it is said.

AROUND CITY HALL

Crime was at a low ebb here last week police activities being mostly confined to a cutting, larceny of several automobiles (all of which were recovered), two houses raided on a charge of being disorderly and arrest of persons who imbibed too freely of intoxicants. Police superiors were glad no serious offenses were committed because several members of the department brought the bureau below quota, owing to vacations.

Despite repeated warnings collisions between automobiles and bicycles occurred last week. In one accident a bicyclist was said to have ridden his "steed" into an automobile to be found later by the auto operator lying on the street. Another collision was blamed by the bicyclist on the autoist. The bicyclist claimed the autoist forced him against the curb, causing slight injuries.

FLOYD STIMSON (above), between puffs of his Camel, describes a typical parachute jump. "I ease out of the cockpit and stand on the wing hooking one foot behind a strut wire. Then I crouch down and dive over, headfirst. I usually make 2 or 3 turns. (In next to last picture Floyd has completed a turn and straightened up.) When I'm facing the sky, I pull the rip cord. It's a sweet feeling when she blooms open." Floyd's work is no job for a nervous man. His cigarette is Camel—has been for 10 years. He says: "They don't frazzle my nerves."

Camels never frazzle my nerves. It seems as though there's no bottom when I bail out—and my stomach knows it," Floyd Stimson continues (right), as he enjoys Camels at mealtime. "However, a Camel helps me ease off. Camels set me right!"

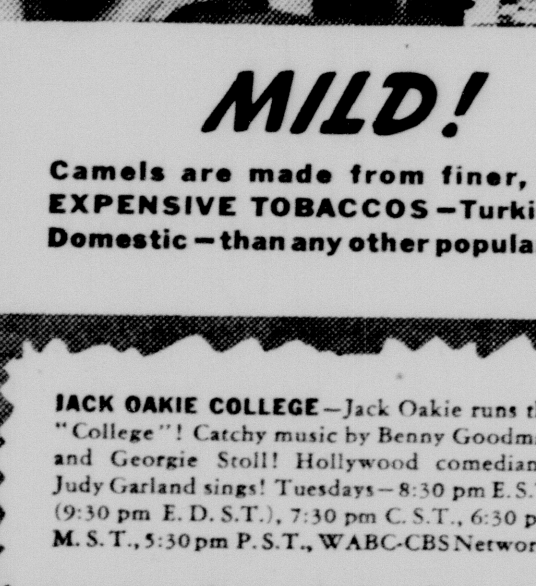

HOURS SPENT IN trying research work can be tense too. Miss Ruth Bruder says: "At times like that a Camel gives me a 'lift.'"

Rural residents who desire to register between the dates set by the county commissioners can do so any time up to September 1 in the office of the registration commissioner, Thomas E. Edmunds stated today.

Many rural residents will be in New Castle on a business day and can get to the court house long enough to register it is thought. One of the registrars timed his work in registering voters on June 8, the first day to register and estimated that the best he could do was five in one hour.

This means that unless there is a heavy registration on the second day, July 6, the third day will see too many at the polls and many will be unable to register.

Apparently it has not yet become generally known among rural residents that they MUST register if they wish to vote. If they wish to vote in the primary on September 14 they must register before September 1. The two days allotted yet remaining in which they can register at their polling places are July 6th and August 10. After that they can register only at the court house. They can register there now also.

The order of Judge James A. Chambers, found in other columns of today's paper is of wide spread significance throughout the sixth class counties of the state. Under the terms of it the whole theory of the original salary act of 1925 is changed and a sheriff gets fees in addition to his salary.

The authority for the order rises out of the act of 1933 in which some one slipped in the provision that a sheriff could be paid on a per diem basis for prisoners. In the future the sheriff of any sixth class county will have to feed his prisoners

ST. VITUS CHURCH SCENE OF WEDDING

One of the prettiest of early June weddings took place in St. Vitus church on Saturday, June 12, when Miss Pernia Corsi, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Corsi, of R. D. 1, Butler road, became the bride of Joe Giangulio, of 409 Pearson street.

Several hundred friends and relatives witnessed the ceremony which was performed by Rev. Father Demita, at 9:30 in the morning. The empaneled altar was decorated beautifully, the chancel being hidden with palms, ferns, flowers, and glowing candles.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white satin, made with train. The sleeves were long and the neckline was finished with a Peter Pan collar. Her cap shape veiled edged with white orange blossoms, fell in a long train. Her flowers were white lilies and lilies of the valley.

Miss Eva Corsi, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. Charles Reale of Cleveland, was best man.

Bridesmaids were Mary Pontacini, Stella Patsy and Mary Troglio. Ushers were: Louis Giangulio, brother of the groom, Louis Corsi, brother of the bride, and Burdell Wright. The little ring bearer was Pete Frangione. Vera Lagetta was veil carrier.

A wedding dinner was held at the bride's home with places laid for a hundred guests or more. The bride's table was centered with a wedding cake and flowers completed the adornments.

In the evening, music and dancing were enjoyed, many of the guests present coming from Cleveland, Butler, Dover, Taylor, O., and other places.

The newlyweds are on a honeymoon to Niagara Falls, Buffalo, and other points of interest.

sary to endeavor to extort the real truth, but putting two female slaves to the torture, who were said to officiate in their religious rites; but all I could discover was evidence of an absurd and extravagant superstition. I deemed it expedient, therefore, to adjourn all future proceedings, in order to consult you. For it appears to be a matter highly deserving your consideration, more especially as great numbers must be involved in the danger of these prosecutions, which have already extended, and are still likely to extend, to persons of all ranks and ages, and even of both sexes. "In fact, this contagious superstition is not confined to the cities only, but has spread its infection among the neighboring villages and country. Nevertheless, it still seems possible to restrain it progress. The temples, at least, which were once almost deserted, begin now to be frequented; and the sacred rites, after a long intermission, are again revived; while there is a general demand for the victims, which till lately found very few purchasers. "From all this it is easy to conjecture what numbers might be reclaimed if a general pardon were granted to those who shall repent of their error."

MAKING GRASS SILAGE SAVES FEEDING VALUE

Good hay weather is not needed in making grass silage. The crop can be cut at the right stage for highest feeding value, leaves and nutrients are not lost by drying and leaching, and the carotene content is practically all saved.

The analysis of fresh alfalfa ensiled at the Pennsylvania State College and its comparison with average alfalfa hay are given in the following table:

	Alfalfa Hay	Alfalfa Silage
Moisture	75.0	75.0
Crude protein	4.33	17.03
Fat	1.29	5.00
Fiber	7.41	26.7
Ash	2.35	8.46
Nitrogen-free extract	19.12	68.8

When hay is ensiled it should remain in the swath not more than an hour or two. The sooner it is put in the silo after cutting the better. Molasses should be added at the rate of about 75 pounds per ton of green legumes and about 50 pounds per ton of green non-legumes. The molasses is mixed with an equal quantity of water. It can be distributed over the material with a sprinkling can or by using a steel drum from which a 1 1/2-inch pipe extends over the table or through a hole drilled in the back of the machine. The molasses should be shut off before the last three or four forks of hay to clean the pipe thoroughly.

A long distributor can be used in the silo or the silage leveled off well after each load. The top should be tramped well for several days after mowing to reduce spoilage. A good seal may be obtained by spreading a heavy paper over the top and covering with wet saw-dust. In the test at the college, alfalfa silage produced more milk than alfalfa hay when fed as the only roughage, although alfalfa hay and corn silage proved just as good as alfalfa hay and alfalfa silage. Probably the best result can be obtained by feeding grass silage with corn silage and some dry hay.

New Jersey has just finished an experiment on feeding heifers grass silage compared with grass silage and hay. The combination gave slightly better gains and when compared to normal growth, the size of the heifers was normal but they were slightly underweight. This indicates the need of some grain. With milk cows, grain should be fed but with a slight reduction in protein content.

Grass silage can be recommended to the dairyman who has two silos and wishes to make a good feed out of what might become poor hay due to weathering or having to stand too long. Grass silage also is excellent feed for summer use to supplement poor or dried-up pastures. For such use the silo may be partly filled with grass silage which will be fed out before it is time to fill with corn silage.

WHEAT IS VALUABLE AS FEED FOR SWINE

Relative prices of corn and wheat make it profitable to feed wheat to swine.

When corn sells for $1.25 a bushel, wheat is worth $1.45 a bushel for feeding swine. Other related values are corn $1.20, wheat $1.40, corn $1.15, wheat $1.34; corn $1.10, wheat $1.28; and corn $1.05, wheat $1.22.

When hogs sell at 12 cents a pound, wheat is worth $1.60 a bushel as feed for swine. At 11 cents a pound for pork, wheat is worth $1.45 a bushel, and 10 cent hogs make wheat worth $1.30 a bushel as feed. Wheat should be coarsely ground or rolled for feeding dry in a self-feeder. Ground wheat, coarse or fine, may be fed in slop. Grinding increases the feeding value 20 percent.

A protein supplement should be fed with wheat to produce the most economical gains. Wheat may be fed as the only grain or it may be combined with other home-grown grains in varying amounts.

A suggested ration for brood sows, growing gilts, and young pigs includes 40 parts ground shelled corn, 30 parts ground wheat, 20 parts ground oats, and 10 parts tankage or fishmeal. For fattening pigs, weighing 100 pounds or more, 92 parts ground wheat or corn may be used with eight parts of tankage or fishmeal. A mixture of 50 parts tankage or fishmeal, 25 parts linseed oil meal, and 25 parts ground alfalfa is superior to either tankage or fishmeal alone.

NEW FACTS ON FRUIT THINNING REPORTED

Fruit thinning was a recognized horticultural practice 2,000 years ago. However, knowledge on the subject is still being acquired.

From Michigan comes the "graduated space" method of apple thinning, which differs from the commonly used "uniform space" method. According to the new method, the distance between fruits left on the tree depends upon the vigor or "thickness" of the branches on which they grow.

Branches are divided into three classes, based on the thickness or diameter of 4-year-old wood. Such wood is "thin" if less than 2-8 inch in diameter, "intermediate" if 2-8 to 3-8 inch, and "thick" if over 3-8 inch. All three classes may be found on the same tree.

The size and color of fruit and the total bearing capacity of the limb was closely related to the thickness of branches. Thin wood is generally incapable of producing good marketable fruit and all of it should be removed in pruning. On intermediate wood, Jonathan and Baldwin should be thinned to 7 to 10 inches, while on thick wood 4 to 7 inches should be sufficient.

While all thinning reduces yields in the current season, the "graduated space" method did not reduce the yield as much as the "uniform space" method, and gave a more uniform grade of fruit.

With peaches, it was found in Ohio that early thinning (just before or just after the beginning of the June crop was over) in a year when the set was heavy. Size of fruit was influenced more by time of thinning than by varying the spacing from 4 to 8 inches. All thinning reduced total yield in the current season, but there seemed to be little difference between the early and late treatment.

However, the effect on the next season's crop was very outstanding. The experiment was carried into the second year, each tree receiving the same treatment as previously. In the second year, the early thinned trees produced twice as much as those thinned late, and four times as much as those which were not thinned. The cost of early thinning was about double the cost of the late treatment.

WE WANT TO KNOW THESE FOOD FACTS

Food preparation constantly brings up questions which need an answer if we are to be sure that the family is going to be fed as carefully as it should be. Miss Mary Vogie, county home economics extension representative, says that one of the commonest of these questions is, "is it safe to leave foods in tin cans after they have been opened?"

And the answer is very encouraging. Foods may be left in tin cans without danger to health. This has not always been true but in recent years cans for preserving have been made with a lining which is harmless to food even after the can is open.

"Will oranges and tomatoes cause acid?" is another common query and those who wonder may be assured that they react alkaline inside the body and therefore are used to reduce acidity.

Many people wonder which is more healthful, raw or pasteurized milk. Pasteurized milk, even though it is low in vitamin C, retains the valuable minerals of milk and has the added tuberculosis protection.

To quiet the fears of those who think that aluminum utensils cause food poisoning, Miss Vogie assures them that aluminum utensils are harmless.

To the question, "how may tomatoes be substituted for oranges?"

the answer is, "if tomatoes are used in place of oranges, two to three times as much to supply adequate vitamin C."

Occasionally we wonder if an ample supply of vitamin A in foods prevents colds, and it should be remembered that foods high in vitamin A do not prevent colds but they will cut down the length of a cold.

For those who wonder whether it is harmful to eat fish and milk together, Miss Vogie answers that fish and milk usually do not cause distress and can be tolerated easily by most people.

LET'S HAVE COOL AND CONVENIENT KITCHENS

Cool and convenient are the two adjectives which most home-makers want to be able to use when describing their kitchens this summer. In case you haven't already thought of changes that make the kitchen an easier place in which to work during hot weather, Miss Mary Vogie, extension representative in Lawrence county mentions some of them.

If you are not using the wood or coal range this summer, clean it inside and outside, and then grease it with unsalted fat or a crude oil rubbing it in well, and then wipe it off.

The top of the stove then can be covered with brown paper, oil cloth, or even composition board can be cut to fit the top of the stove and enameled. This will give additional working surface for the preparation of food. Ovens of unused stoves provide convenient storage space for large utensils.

Oil stoves can be moved easily and often the most convenient place is beside the wood or coal range where the top of the range can be used for work space. If it is necessary to move the oil stove occasionally, try putting it on a rack or frame with casters; this will make it easily moved and the stove will be raised to a more convenient working height.

You may have some utensils which are of the right size to fit over the burners and if so, use these. When the flame extends beyond the edge of the pan, it does not help to cook the food but it heats the kitchen. Duplicate or triplicate sauce pans to use over one burner and a steam pressure cooker are good warm weather utensils. Everyone has utensils which are used during the summer, such as canning equipment and ice cream freezer. Have these clean and in a convenient place, all ready to use.

Proper ventilation is important during the summer months. A circulation of air makes one feel cooler for there is more evaporation from the body surface in the presence of moving air than in the presence of still air. This movement of air can be secured through full-length screens and cross-ventilation of windows. The kitchen and the bedrooms should have full-length screens. If they are not available mosquito netting may be used.

Screens may be fastened with metal buttons which enable one to remove them easily when washing windows. If adjustable screens are used, bugs may find their way in between the screen and the window. To help prevent this put a strip of window felt on the top and bottom of the screen, fastening it on both ends.

Opened attic windows will help to create circulation of air and keep the house cooler. Keep the house ready to receive any stray breezes which come along and if nature does not supply one, one can easily be made with an electric fan.

English people of the nobility live peacefully with their relatives. Given a big house and enough servants, you can dodge a guest indefinitely.

FELLOW-WORKERS GAVE THIS TIN MILL MAN GOOD ADVICE

Suffered From Constipation Since Childhood, Used Nearly Every Kind Of Medicine He Heard Of, Was Getting In Bad Condition. Took New Root, Herb And Alkaline Medicine Vendol, And Is Like Different Man, He Says.

MR. H. F. ROWLAND

Thousands of bottles of Vendol have been sold to people who took it on the advice of some friend whom it has helped. That is the secret of this medicine's amazing popularity, and that is the reason why, right here in New Castle, such a tremendous record-breaking sale has been built up on this root, herb and Alkaline compound which is being introduced to local sufferers by the Vendol Man in New Castle Drug Co.

One of the many well known citizens who began taking Vendol on the advice of his friends is Mr. H. F. Rowland, of 809 E. Main St., New Castle, popular employee of the Carnegie-Illinois Tin Mill, who says: "You wouldn't think that a person as young as myself could possibly have so much wrong, but for years I suffered with a large number of complaints. I have suffered from constipation since I was a child and have tried about everything I heard of for this trouble. I have been for days without an action. My skin looked dull and sallow, I had a bad taste in my mouth, and just felt disagreeable in every respect. "My condition became noticeable, so some of my friends at the Mill advised me to try Vendol, as it was so highly spoken of here in town. I did, and now I feel world's better. "Vendol and the little Vendol laxative tablets relieved my constipation like nothing ever did, and now my elimination is good, my digestion greatly improved so I digest anything without distress, gas or acidity. My nerves calmed down so that I sleep sound, skin has cleared up and I again feel like my real 35 years instead of like 75, as I used to. I am glad to return the advice given me. I hope many sufferers will read this and be helped."

All leading druggists sell Vendol, and the Vendol Man is now at New Castle Drug Co., 31 E. Washington St., daily meeting crowds of people and explaining all about this remarkable medicine. Come see him, learn how it will help you. Vendol is also sold by the New Castle Drug Co., at 24 N. Mill St.

DANGER OF GENERAL STRIKE IS LESSENED

Action Is Delayed In Youngstown

A. F. Of L. Representatives Against Such Action, At Least For Present

MEETING IS HELD SUNDAY AFTERNOON

(International News Service)
YOUNGSTOWN, O., June 14.—Danger of a threatened general strike in this city, already contending with a vast steel strike now in its third week, lessened today as American Federation of Labor leaders brought pressure against such action.

Meeting in general session, 65 A. F. of L. locals, representing 20,000 workers, decided for the time being to institute legal proceedings contesting the mayor's authority to hire "strike" police, with the possibility of a city-wide walkout not entirely out.

A committee was also authorized to carry congress complaints to the governor.

Adds To Police Force.
Meanwhile Mayor Lionel Evans prepared for possible eventualities, adding 52 citizens to the city police force. The emergency policemen were being equipped with guns and uniforms today.

A. F. of L. representatives from half a dozen powerful international unions threw cold water on suggestions for a general strike to protest "strike-breaking" tactics by city and county officials. Such a strike would mean the breaking of union contracts in many instances, it was pointed out.

Coleman Claherty, A. F. of L. district organizer from Cleveland, reminded the delegates of the feud between their organization and the CIO.

"The CIO has declared war against the A. F. of L.," he said, "and according to that the A. F. of L. can only fight back."

The American Civil Liberties Union entered the steel strike controversy with a report recommending investigations by the LaFollette civil liberties committee and the United States department of justice.
It recommended Sheriff Ralph Elser of Mahoning county "dismiss his army of special deputies, spend no further funds for armaments, and cease all provocative acts."
It recommended also that Youngstown city officials "take no further steps to deputize special officers or to put in supplies of war equipment."

To Carry Complaint.
The report was made following a three-day investigation by A. L. Wirin, national counsel for the union, and Attorney W. K. Thomas of Cleveland. The investigators said they interviewed Sheriff Elser, but that repeated efforts to reach Mayor Evans were rebuffed.

Americanism: A smart under-dog wins power enough to help his kind; then he speaks scornfully of the "common people."

Don't Irritate Gas Bloating

If you want to REALLY GET RID OF GAS don't take harsh, irritating laxatives and "gas tablets." Most gas is in the stomach and upper bowel is due to constipation. Adierka, ridges you of gas and cleans food poisons out of BOTH bowels. "Estered" is in Mahoningtown by Hyde's Drug Store.

OFF THE ROAD THEY SHOT AS AN UNSEEN DEMON THREW THEIR CAR OUT OF CONTROL!

GRANTLAND RICE Describes The Unhappy Ending To A Seattle Motorist's Week-End Trip

The strains of "When We Come To The End of A Perfect Day" seemed to fit the mood of Mr. Jack Davis of Seattle, Washington, and his party of four, as they motored along the scenery-laden paths leading down from Mt. Baker. Then, with startling suddenness, the scene had blown out with the noise of a thunder-clap! A terrible drag set in. Down went the brakes. But too late. Off the road they shot.

Why any motorist should trust ordinary tires is beyond me. Especially when the engineers of The B. F. Goodrich Company have perfected a tire invention that brings real blow-out protection to every American motorist. This revolutionary construction, called the Life-Saver Golden Ply, which is found only in Goodrich Silvertowns, is a layer of special rubber and full-floating cords, scientifically treated to resist the terrific blowout-causing heat generated inside all tires by today's higher speeds.

One blow-out was enough to cure Mr. Jack Davis of Seattle, Washington. Now you'll find his car equipped with Goodrich Safety Silvertowns. Make up your mind to "beat a blow-out to the punch" by starting to ride on Silvertowns today. No extra cost for the Golden Ply.

LEWIS MOVES TO SHUT OFF COAL

today moved to close the companies' plants by shutting off their coal supply.
The heavy-browed chief of the Committee for Industrial Organization and president of the United Mine Workers sent orders to the 9,500 union miners in the captive mines of the Bethlehem Steel corporation and of the Youngstown Sheet and Tube corporation in West Virginia and in Pennsylvania, to go on a sympathy strike with the steel workers. Captive-mines are mines owned and mined by steel companies to furnish their own fuel supplies.

Asks Plant Closing
Simultaneous with his strike call Lewis called upon the federal government to close down the plants of all steel companies that have forced workers to strike because of alleged violations of the National Labor Relations Acts.

Lewis said the government should intervene in "this very serious steel crisis."
Lewis' strike-order brought the powerful International Miners' union to the support of the striking members of the steel workers' union. Both unions are affiliates of the Committee for Industrial Organization, the union Lewis organized to wrest control of the labor movement from the American Federation of Labor.

While Lewis was issuing his strike order the National Labor Relations board cited the Inland Steel company on union complaints that it violated the National Labor Relations act on three counts alleging it refused its employees their collective bargaining rights, interfered with the self-organization of its workers and attempted to establish a company union. Company officials were ordered to appear at a board hearing in Chicago June 21.
Lewis made another coup by announcing the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen and the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers and Firemen, two powerful rail unions, have agreed they will not settle their Johnstown (Pa.) strikes with the Bethlehem Steel corporation separately.

ADVERSE REPORT FILED ON COURT BY COMMITTEE

whole form of government in America and establish dangerous precedents that might result ultimately in the overthrow of our Democracy.
The report was placed on the senate calendar by Senator McCarran (D) of Nevada, who merely told the senate he was offering a report from the judiciary committee.
"This is the first time in the history of our country that the report stated, 'that a proposal to alter the decisions of the court by enlarging its personnel has been so boldly made. Let us meet it. Let us now set a salutary precedent that will never be violated.'

Demand Independent Court
"Let us, the seventy-fifth congress, in words that will never be disregarded by any succeeding congress, declare that we would rather have an independent court, a fearless court, a court that will dare to announce its honest opinions in what it believes to be the defense of the liberties of the people, than a court that, out of fear or sense of obligation, to the appointing power, or factional passion, approves any measure we may enact. We are not judges of the judges. We are not above the constitution.
"Even if every charge brought against the so-called 'reactionary' members of this court be true, it is better that we await orderly but inevitable changes of personnel than that we impatiently overwhelm them with new members. Exhibiting this restraint, this demonstration of our faith in the American system, we shall set an example that will protect the independent American judiciary from attack as long as this government stands."

The report had the endorsement of Senators King of Utah, Van Nuys of Indiana, McCarran of Nevada, Hatch of New Mexico, Burke of Nebraska, Connally of Texas, O'Mahoney of Wyoming, all Democrats, and Borah of Idaho, Austin of Vermont, and Steiwer of Oregon, Republicans. Hatch filed a separate statement, endorsing the report but reserving the right to vote for a compromise that would infuse "new blood" into the federal courts throughout the years.

Objections To Bill
After reviewing the history of the American judiciary and the reasons set forth by the president for his bill, the committee summarized some of its objection in these words:
"We recommend the rejection of this bill as a needless, futile and utterly dangerous abandonment of the constitutional principle.
"It was presented to the congress in a most intricate form and for reasons that obscured its real purpose.
"It would not banish age from the bench nor abolish divided decisions.
"It would not affect the power of any court to hold laws unconstitutional nor withdraw from any judge the authority to issue injunctions.
"It would not reduce the expense of litigation nor speed the decision of cases.
"It is a proposal without precedent and without justification.
"It is a measure which should be so emphatically rejected that its parallel will never again be presented to the free representatives of the free people of America."

The committee's report was 10,000 words long, amplified by supplements that included the president's original message, his judicial radio fireside chat, a review of Supreme court decisions and the famous letter of Chief Justice Charles Evans Hughes.
After first reviewing the president's reasons for enactment of the bill, the committee smashed down each one of them. The opponents denied the president's bill would speed up court procedure or ameliorate the misuse of federal injunctions. Neither subject would be touched by the bill, the committee averred.
Then, they hammered at the president's complaint about the court failing to hear the cases of poor litigants. The committee used the president's own words to belittle this argument.

New Castle Folks Gather On Coast

I. A. Williamson Tells Of Recent Gathering Of Former Local Residents In West

EIGHTY-TWO AT ALHAMBRA REUNION

In a letter to The News, I. A. Williamson, former resident of the Croton district, told of a reunion of the members of the Rambler club, composed of former Lawrence county and New Castle people now living in California.

His letter, which is an interesting one, follows:

Long Beach, Cal.,
June 7, 1937.

New Castle News,
Mr. Editor:

May I be privileged, through the columns of your valued paper, to apprise our friends and neighbors of the old home town as to how things are going with some of us out here on the coast. Those that we have contacted lately seem to be quite prosperous and are looking for better times to come. None of them is pessimistic in regard to the future of their adopted state. They all have that cheerful smile and handshake of good fellowship when you meet them, and all seem to have reasonable good health.

Our Rambler club, which was organized in December ten years ago, is still functioning, but we don't have all our members turn out at any one meeting. We generally have a pretty good turnout, however. Yesterday, June 6, we were privileged to meet again at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Haydon, who have a lovely home and spacious shaded lawn in Alhambra. The members began to gather quite early and assembled themselves in the shade of a mammoth eastern chestnut tree, and whiled away the moments by talking of the events which have occurred in the old home town. Every one seemed to be enjoying themselves to the utmost. In the meantime tables were placed and plates laid for 82, and at the appointed time the ladies became busy placing viands on the tables. After this was finished we all took our places, and stood, while we sang "Praise God From Whom All Blessings Flow." Then we all sat down to fill up on the good things that were laid before us.

Then the chairs were enmassed for a business meeting for the purpose of electing officers. Our host, Mr. Hadon, was elected president, and Mrs. Patterson was chosen as secretary and treasurer. After the election, Frank Kunkel, acting as chairman, called on some of the members to say a few words in behalf of the club, and how it has functioned in the past.

After this meeting was over we were entertained by two local boys from the plant where Mr. Haydon is foreman. They played the guitar and sang many of the late songs, which were well received. After they left we all joined in singing some of the old time songs with John Richardson as leader. The day was fine, it being the first day we had any morning sunshine for more than two weeks. It was made to order for our outing.

Bert Davis won the prize for having the longest residence in California. He has been here for 37 years.

Mrs. Irene Wilson won the best prize, and Mr. Patterson won a watermelon for his number. There were other prizes and some gifts exchanged, so all in all we had an enjoyable day, and as the sun was setting in the western sky we all said good bye.

Following are the names of those present: Frank Kunkel, Mrs. Ada Brown (nee Middlehurst), W. C. H. Matthews, R. E. Spear, Mr. and Mrs. McKinley, Mr. and Mrs. Charles O'Brien, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. F. Vandivort, Mr. and Mrs. John Cline, Catherine Cline, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. McCormick, Mary McCormick, John McCormick, Mr. and Mrs. Adams, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Moffatt, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Davis, Berta D. Lening, Ralph Lening, Ethel Lening, Carl Lening, Marilyn McCormick, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Patterson, Mr. and Mrs. Streeter, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Lundberg, Miss Rachel Hamilton, Mr. and Mrs. E. Waddington, Miss Pearl Waddington, Miss Berta Waddington, Mrs. M. Newell, Mrs. L. McIntire, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Guckert, Mr. and Mrs. N. J. Bruner, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest McCray, Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Ayers, John Richardson, Mr. and Mrs. Adams, Mrs. M. Thurman (nee Kunkel), Mr. and Mrs. William Kunkel, Mrs. Julia Mittle, Dorothy Dean, Mrs. J. W. Dean, Charles Dean, Freda N. Davis, Mr. and Mrs. Maloney, Mrs. George Scott, Mr. and Mrs. John Haydon, Bob Black, and your humble servant, I. A. Williamson and wife.

Rads-Saks Will Battle Tonight

Saks Have Opportunity To Gain Tie For League Leadership

GAME IS CARDÉD FOR DEAN PARK

Dean park will dominate the spotlight this evening. On this spacious diamond, two victory hungry softball teams will battle in the first half race of the City Softball League. The leading National Radiator club and the Saks are the aggregations. The game starts at 6 o'clock and no doubt more than 1000 fans will be on hand to watch the scrappy teams.

Saks grabbed the league lead as a result of a well earned triumph over the Rads, 17-3. The Rads came right back and evaded the count, winning 14-5 over the Saks to capture the top berth. A victory tonight for the Saks means a deadlock for the top post while a win for the Rads spells the first half title.

Manager Nick Cagnetti will likely use Toby Capp against the Rads. Feature performers on Cagnetti's club are S. Bullano, N. Genovese, P. Zingaro, T. Turco, J. Bullano, P. Coppel and J. Fava. Manager Dum Ambrosia of the Rads may call on Dwyer or Irv Rubels in the hope of capturing the 11th consecutive victory. Gabby DeCaprio, Peachy Fornataro, Frank Stone, Elroy Lockley, Eddie Hilton and Nickie Ross are outstanding.

In other league games Johnson Bronze and West Pittsburgh will clash at West Pittsburgh. Manager Pascarella is strengthening his J. B. team daily and expects to be in the thick of the battle for the second half laurels. The J. B. team extended the Saks on Friday. Nobils will travel to Mahoningtown to oppose the Weavers in what promises to be another sizzler.

Dodgers Trip Pirates Twice

Giants And Reds Split Twin Bill, St. Louis Cards Win Pair

INDIANS TRIM ATHLETICS TWICE

By PAT ROBINSON
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, June 14.—The Dodgers will be the team to watch through July, August and September. They will not win the pennant but they may—Burlinghams insists they will—crowd their way into the first division.

Grimes has done a remarkable job despite injuries and illnesses. Here it is mid-June and he has yet to have his team at full strength even for one day since the season opened. If he had another great pitcher to team with Van Mungo, as Warneke teams with Dizzy Dean, Grimes would have just as good a chance as anybody to win the flag.

Pirates Lose Two
He may have found that man in old Freddy Fitzsimmons, obtained last week in a trade with the Giants. Making his debut as a Dodger, fat Freddy held the slugger Pirates to five hits to win 4 to 1 yesterday after Van Mungo had held the Bucs to eight hits for a 6-2 decision. The double defeat sent the Pirates reeling back to fourth place.

The banjo-hitting Giants split a pair with the Reds, 1-5, and 6-2, and held their place at the top only because the Cubs lost the nightcap to the Phils, 4-3, after winning the first game, 16-8.

The giants got only four hits off rookie Ray Davis in the opener, but Castelman came through with an eight-hit performance to take the next. The Cubs made 22 hits, including three homers to win behind Shoun and then Parmelee blew the second one late in the game.

Cards Win Pair
The Cards moved into the third slot on the strength of a double victory over the Bees, 6-2 and 1-0. Weiland won the first and Dizzy Dean gave but five hits to capture the second against some airtight pitching by Lou Fette which was wasted when Wastler gummed up a double play ball.

The Yanks still are clinging to first place by the skin of their teeth today only because their sensational youngster, Joe DIMAGGIO, dotes on Brownie pitching. The Yanks won the first game of a double header by pounding out seven runs in the ninth for a 16-9 verdict. The second game was called at the end of the 11th with the score tied at 8-8.

In this one, DIMAGGIO hit three home runs and this third one tied up the game in the ninth, otherwise the Yanks would be in second place today. Cliff also got three homers, two in the first and one in the nightcap.

Indians Come Through
Those astonishing White Sox grabbed a pair from the Senators, 9-4 and 3-2, with Lyons and Stratton operating.

Although they made only 11 hits in two games, five in the first and six in the second, the Indians took two from the Mackmen, 2-1 and 2-0. Allen and Whitehall outpitched Thomas and Smith.

The Tigers played only one game and won it from the Red Sox, 3-1, behind Auker's five-hit performance.

Ryantown-Indies To Play Tonight

Weather permitting, the Ryantown team will have the Lawrence Indies at the Ryantown field tonight for a postponed City Baseball league game. The game will start at 6 o'clock.

Manager Joe Samuels will probably use Coates or Carey on the mound, with the Indies using Balla or Carik.

Lawrence County Court Fixes 30 Cents Per Day For Care Of Prisoners

Judge James A. Chambers established a precedent for the care and maintenance of prisoners in the jails of sixth class counties Saturday when he handed down an opinion in the case of Sheriff Edward D. Pritchard against the Commissioners of Lawrence County.

In his order Judge Chambers directed that the sheriff of Lawrence County should be paid 30 cents per day for the care and maintenance of each prisoner, the order to be retroactive to December 1, 1935 and continue in the present case, until the expiration of the term of Sheriff Pritchard on January 1, 1938.

Long Drawn Out

The case has been a long drawn out affair and rises out of the refusal of the county commissioners to pay bills for food, clothing and other supplies for the jail since the present board took office on January 1, 1936.

Sheriff Pritchard first petitioned to have the bills approved by the court and an order drawn for the payment of them. To this order the county solicitor, William McElwee demurred arguing that the law of 1933 called for a per diem allowance for prisoners. Under the act of 1925 the sheriff is to be paid a salary and all bills for supplies paid for by the commissioners.

The case was argued a number of times and when testimony was taken some six weeks ago the total of unpaid bills amounted to $2886.20. One of the questions was who would pay these accumulated bills.

In the order Judge Chambers states that he first thought that no retroactive order could be made but that he was now convinced that such an order was legal, citing an order in the Lawrence County court of 1866 which was retroactive to 1862.

Sheriff Pays Bills

Under the order of court the allowance of 30 cents per day goes back to December 1, 1935 and the sheriff is paid that much for every prisoner day since. The testimony shows that the average prisoner population has been about 40 per day. This would mean that when the order is effective, which is ten days from today, there would have been 570 days past. With an average of forty prisoners per day this would mean 22,800 prisoner days and at 30 cents per day would total $6840. Out of this there will be some deduction for bills that have been paid, amounting it is said to well over $2000. Other bills have accumulated since the date of the last argument and it is estimated that the current bills will bring the total unpaid to something over $4000. Apparently the per diem allowance is just about sufficient to pay everything accumulated and leave a small balance.

Decree Nisi

The decree is a "decree nisi" which means that unless there are exceptions taken by the sheriff or county commissioners the order becomes effective ten days from date of filing which will make it effective June 22.

The order will eventually mean that the sheriffs of the county will make more money than they have been making. Prior to 1925 the sheriffs of sixth class counties, of which Lawrence County is one, were paid fees. Out of the fees they paid all expenses of operating the jail but at the end of the year it meant a handsome return to the sheriff.

In 1925 the General Assembly placed the sheriffs of sixth class counties on a straight salary basis with no other emoluments permitted in the way of fees. The county commissioners paid the bills for whatever was purchased for the care and maintenance of the jail.

The profit to the sheriff under this order comes in this fashion. No court would set a per diem allowance which did not cover the actual cost of food, clothing, bedding, medical supplies and the like. It would be manifestly impossible to set a per diem allowance which would be exactly what the sheriff paid out for supplies, thus any balance remaining would accrue to the sheriff.

Whether or not there will be an appeal from this decision of today is not known. Both the sheriff's counsel and the county solicitor are studying the order to see if it does the thing they wanted done. If neither side appeals, the order becomes effective on June 22, and until such time as it is overturned by an appellate court it becomes a precedent for the state.

The Pennsylvania Association of Sheriffs has been interested in the case and with this decision, providing it goes into effect, it is likely that every sixth class county in the state will adopt such a rule.
